THE HERALD OF HAZEL GREEN.

When loneliness doth hover round And cause my heart to roam, I look and wait with anxiousness For some kind word from home; A word from loved and absent once. Whom memory holds most dear,

THE REFALD'S Words of cheer.
The progress of our childhood's him he began and enterprise;
The shrilling look of hopefulness.
That surely round is like, Are propagated and sustained with great profidency,
By this, our Advocate, who pleads With great he ficiency.

With much efficiency.

There should not be a mountain man
Who has an interest,
the should not be a mountain man
Who has an interest,
On home a development,
That should not heartily support
THE HERALD of his needs,
And cultivate the germs of life
By grushing out the weeds.

Come one, come all, threw in your m To keep it in a boom. Don't let it perish in its prime, Or seek a carly tomb; Feel down, feel down and try to find A dollar you can spare; Twill pay you inserset; Twill pay you inserset;

You have the power to support A good and spicy sheet, And why, for narrow-beariedness, Should you yourselves defeat? It labors for the general good, Its benefits are seen.
Come, lead a belping hand to the HERALD of Hand Green.
